EXTRAORDINARY CARNIVAL — The Crabtree's backyard Leukemia Carnival Saturday is a most unusual one. The state's lieutenant governor, John W. Brown, cannot be expected to visit backyard affairs, but he attended this one. Brown, president of the Central Ohio Leukemia Society, affectionately greeted Julie Beth Crabtree, 9, when he arrived. He and Julie Beth became good friends when she was selected the 1972 Leukemia Poster Girl. After a few quiet moments together, the two visited a number of the games, including the penny toss pictured at the left. The carnival has special meaning to Julie Beth, who has fought a very determined battle with the disease over the past three years.

Joint probe under way

Two men nabbed in burglary try

Two men are lodged in the city jail without bond on charges of burglary after being captured by several Washington C.H. police officers near the downtown business district early Saturday.

A joint investigation is presently being conducted by Washington C.H. police officers and Fayette County Sheriff's deputies to determine if the two burglary suspects were also involved in a burglary and safe-cracking incident at another Washington C.H. area business sometime overnight.

PAUL R. SPENCE, 36, of Columbus, and James R. Forsythe, 33, of 703 E. Paint St., have been charged with burglary by city police officers in connection with an alleged breaking and entering incident at the Washington C.H. Elks Lodge, 222 N.

Main St., early Saturday.

According to the report, an additional charge of possession of criminal tools has been lodged against Spence, while Forsythe is also charged with possession of marijuana.

The two suspects were captured when eight Washington C.H. police officers surrounded the Washington C.H. Elks Lodge shortly after 2:30 a.m. Saturday.

The report stated Spence was seized by police officers as he was leaving the Elks Lodge. The suspect was ordered to halt by one of the police officers and Police Specialist Larry Holt was forced to fire one gunshot from his revolver when Spence attempted to flee on foot after receiving the order. Police Sgt. Luther Anderson moments later assisted in capturing the suspect, the report stated.

According to the report, Forsythe was nabbed by police officers in an alley in the 200 block of Temple Street, about a half block from the Elks Lodge.

Both suspects were equipped with portable walkie-talkie radios and Forsythe was reportedly manning a lookout post outside the Elks Lodge when police launched the raid.

Assisting Anderson and Holt were Police Specialists Dennis Brown and William Cales, Patrolman Larry Mongold, police investigator Larry Walker, auxiliary patrolman Mike Taylor and Police Chief Rodman Scott.

Following the capture of the two suspects, police obtained search warrants issued by Fayette County Common Pleas Court Judge Evelyn W. Coffman early Saturday morning and located Spence's auto at Forsythe's residence on E. Paint Street. According to report, police discovered an undetermined amount of cash and checks which were allegedly stolen from Associated Plumbers and Heaters, CCC Highway-W.

According to report, marijuana was discovered following a search of Forsythe's vehicle.

FAYETTE COUNTY Sheriff's Sgt. William R. Crooks said a safe was cracked and an undetermined amount of cash and checks were stolen in a burglary at Associated Plumber and Heaters sometime overnight.

Sgt. Crooks said sheriff's deputies and police officers are presently attempting to determine if there is any connection between the burglary at Associated Plumbers and the arrest of Spence and Forsythe.

According to sheriff's deputies, the building was entered by forcing open a rear door. The burglary and safe-cracking incident was discovered by sheriff's deputies while on routine patrol late Friday.

An agent from the Bureau of Criminal Investigation at London is assisting police officers and sheriff's deputies in the investigation.

former president's upper left leg," Tkach said. He said he examined Nixon Friday morning after arriving here from Washington and had consulted with Lundgren, who examined the former President Tuesday in Palm Springs, Calif.

Lundgren was unavailable for comment.

More economic stagnation predicted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Continued high inflation and food prices are predicted by Cabinet members, while a decline in industrial output has signaled further stagnation in the nation's economy.

Treasury Secretary William E. Simon joined other top administration economic experts in predicting that inflation will continue at high rates for the rest of the year.

Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz told a news conference in Chicago that "the picture's not rosy on food prices."

And the Federal Reserve Board released figures showing a decline in its industrial production index of one-half of one per cent for July and August, meaning there are fewer jobs available in the face of growing unemployment.

In other economic news Friday: —Meeting in Vienna the world's 13 major oil exporting nations agreed to boost taxes and royalties on crude oil by about 33 cents a barrel.

—Energy experts reported that if a threatened coal strike becomes a reality this winter the impact would be an energy cut nearly three times worse than last winter's.

—The New York Stock exchange fell to a 12-year low.

Speaking in Phoenix, Ariz., Simon estimated that by the end of the year prices will still be rising by 9 per cent or more.

Similar predictions have been made by Alan Greenspan, chairman of the Presidents Council of Economic Advisers, and Kenneth Rush, a White House economic coordinator who is to become ambassador to France.

Consumer prices are currently 11.8 per cent above what they were a year ago.

Simon reaffirmed his support of administration policies of reduced spending and a tight money policy as means of combating inflation.

He also endorsed elimination of savings account interest ceilings, encouraging consumers to save more and spend less.

At the same time, Simon said the government should spur high corporation profits so companies can invest in new equipment to increase productivity.

Butz said that he does not expect grocery prices to soar next spring when the full impact of this year's droughts and reduced grain crop takes hold, but he said prices will remain high.

Butz said there will be more beef next year and enough food to satisfy consumer needs.

The Federal Reserve Board attributed much of the August decline in industrial production to strikes in scattered industries, mainly iron, coal and copper.

The August decline came despite a slight increase in the auto industry. Officials said that was offset by declines for other durable goods producers, especially household appliances furniture and other household goods.

Also declining was the production of business equipment, largely because of strikes in the electrical industry, officials said.

Details due next week

Ford amnesty plan calls for service

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford will unveil a conditional amnesty program next week requiring repatriated Vietnam war resisters to serve from 6 to 24 months of alternative service, according to administration sources.

The minimum period of service is sharply lower than the 18 months originally proposed by the Defense and Justice Departments after Ford announced his intention to consider conditional amnesty.

The length of time a military deserter or draft evader devotes to alternative service will depend in part on his military or Selective Service record, one source said.

In the case of deserters, for example, such factors as length of time in service before desertion and whether a man served in Vietnam would be considered, said an official who has been working on the program.

Postponements of the plan's announcement fueled speculation that it was being delayed or revamped as a result of Ford's pardon to former President Richard M. Nixon and the resulting negative public and congressional comment.

But administration officials say the conditional amnesty program was not developed in concert with or reaction to the Nixon pardon.

Several officials now say it was not realistic to expect the completed program could have been announced any sooner than now, less than a month after Ford suggested conditional amnesty.

One man pointed to the complexities of the various categories of individual cases which must be dealt with. Another spoke of increasing risks by acting too quickly.

Although the White House would say for the record only that the announcement will become before the end of the month, several sources said it would be made within a week.

Ford has already said a civilian review board will administer the program. As many as 50,000 draft evaders and military deserters could be affected. An estimated several thousand of them are living abroad.

Ohio Democrats open convention

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — More than 1,000 Ohio Democrats gathered for their 1974 state convention today to adopt a state platform and let their candidates bask in the spotlight, but a rift of some proportions was inevitable.

Even State Party Chairman William A. Lavelle admitted late Friday there was no chance the delegates could end their business session by 1 p.m., as planned. "I've decided that we will take an hour and a half lunch break," the chairman said.

The 9 a.m. gavel for the party's first convention since 1972 opens a full day of activity for Democrats who hope to keep Gov. John J. Gilligan in the Statehouse, send John Glenn to the U.S. Senate, and otherwise displace state and local Republicans while holding their own ranks.

A crowd of about 4,000 is expected tonight for a $100-a-plate dinner, the party's chief fundraiser of the year, in the Lausche Building at the Ohio State Fairgrounds.

Gilligan will be the dinner speaker, and aides said he planned to include in a sort of party "pep talk" his contention that "Republicans only promise while Democrats deliver."

Ford gets flood of pardon requests

By DUDLEY LEHEW

Associated Press Writer

President Ford's pardon of Richard Nixon has produced a stream of requests for pardons for everyone from a former federal judge to all inmates at Kansas State Prison.

And a few judges, although they lack the power of pardon, have freed inmates or reduced sentences after noting Ford's action.

"What I'm about to do is unusual, but that seems the vogue these days," said Los Angeles Municipal Judge Gilbert Alston. "If a man who almost wrecked the country can be pardoned, this defendant can be released to get proper treatment."

With that, Alston ordered released from jail to the custody of his psychiatrist John Gabron, a 27-year-old Vietnam veteran who took three hostages at riflepoint during what was described as "combat flashback."

Before Gabron could be released, however, a higher court nullified Alston's order.

In New York City, U.S. District Court Judge Marvin E. Frankel reduced a 30-day prison sentence to a $1,000 fine in the case of Craig E. Braun, who had pleaded guilty to tax evasion.

Noting that Braun's case involved at most $22,000 in evaded taxes, Frankel said "the alleged crimes embraced by the recent pardon may have included among the lesser tax items tax evasions to the extent of several hundreds of thousands of dollars."

Rep. Silvio O. Conte, R-Mass., introduced in Congress on Friday a proposed constitutional amendment that would limit the pardon and reprieve power of the president. Under his proposal, any pardon or reprieve could be blocked by a two-thirds vote of both houses of Congress within 90 days.

In Lansing, Kan., Gov. Robert B. Docking was asked by two inmates to pardon all 636 state prison inmates "in order that justice may be served in the proper manner."

A letter signed by Edward L.

Robinson and Richard Lee McCarther said that "even before this man (Nixon) could be charged, he was pardoned." The letter added, "We want to make this crystal clear. We have been punished enough."

Docking was out of the state Friday and was unable to comment.

In Chicago, a spokeswoman for Citizens for Otto Kerner said 2,500 signatures have been gathered on petitions calling for Kerner's pardon. Kerner, former Illinois governor and federal judge, was convicted in connection with race track stock dealings and is serving a three-year prison term in Lexington, Ky.

In Missoula, Mont., Bernie Morning Gun, who says he heads the local chapter of the American Indian Movement, says petitions are being circulated to ask Ford to grant amnesty to AIM members charged in connection with the 1973 takeover of Wounded Knee, S.D.

"What's good enough for Nixon should be good enough for me," Robert Miranda told Common Pleas Judge George Buchwalter of Trumbull County in Warren, Ohio, on Friday.

Lottery operates without mail use

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Lottery Director John E. Kirkland says it is obvious "we can't operate without the mail."

But Kirkland told the Lottery Commission Friday that is just what the lottery did this week in the wake of the Sept. 6 conference with U.S. Atty. Gen. William Saxbe on the knotty problem of federal laws relating to lotteries.

Kirkland said the suspension was ordered on the recommendation of attorney Stephen T. Parisi pending commission action on the issue.

The governor's running mate, State Rep. Richard F. Celeste, D-5 Cleveland, was chosen to deliver the convention's keynote address this morning. In it, he planned to challenge his GOP opponent for lieutenant governor and other Republicans to join Democrats in disclosing their personal financial records.

Traditionally less staid than similar Republican gatherings, the convention's first floor fight loomed over the selection of 14 a-large and 19 alternate delegates to the national party's mini-convention next December at Kansas City.

Democrats picked 64 delegates in the May primary, but opposition has been voiced over selections for the other slots made by Lavelle and the members of a delegate selection committee. The protests alleged lack of representation of certain minority and other groups, including labor unions.

Glenn said he would oppose, possibly in a floor speech, a proposed constitutional amendment to lower from a bare majority to 30 per cent the number of state executive committee members required at meetings to conduct party business.

The amendment runs counter to stated party goal of trying to get more people involved in the political process. Glenn was quoted as saying.

Lavelle and others on a committee on constitutional matters said the amendment is needed because it already is too difficult to convene a quorum of 46 on the 91-member executive committee.

New tax on oil to hit Americans

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Gasoline and heating oil will cost almost a penny a gallon more as a result of the decision of major oil producing countries to raise royalties and taxes on crude.

Representatives of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries meeting here announced Friday that all member states except Saudi Arabia were boosting royalties and taxes by 33 cents a barrel on oil exports, effective Oct. 1.

The hike would raise the average revenue for each government to $9.74 a barrel.

The OPEC ministers said the hike should come out of oil companies' profits, but oil company observers at the conference said any increase would be passed along to consumers. Most oil companies have clauses in contracts with their customers making such increases automatic.

Jamshid Amouzegar, the Iranian delegate and an unofficial spokesman for the conference, admitted that oil producing governments have no way to block consumer price increases.

New blood clot plagues Nixon

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — A new, painful blood clot has developed in the left leg of former President Richard M. Nixon, and his doctor said the ex-chief executive is suffering from "severe strain and physical fatigue."

However, the doctor, Air Force Maj. Gen. Walter Tkach, said Nixon is "mentally alert" and hospitalization has been ruled out at Nixon's request.

The new clot apparently is not considered extremely serious because Tkach took an Air Force jet back to Washington Friday afternoon. A spokesman at the Nixon home said the physician would return in a week for a further examination of the ailment.

Tkach's statement, released Friday by a Nixon aide who read it to newsmen by telephone, said:

"I have found the former President to be suffering from severe strain and physical fatigue, but he is mentally alert and has been working at his office at home each day.

"The leg is swollen and painful. The clot from the earlier phlebitis, which is still present, causes the former President periodic pain."

Tkach did not say how serious the clot is, and the aide refused to call the former White House doctor to the telephone. Dr. John Lundgren, a Long Beach internist who specializes in cardiology, has been the Nixon's family doctor for many years and is working with Tkach on the ailment.

Nixon has been suffering from phlebitis, an inflammation of a vein, for several months. The ailment created the first clot.

"There is a new venous clot in the

BEST TREE BOX — David Six is pictured presenting Pearl Stoughton with the first place prize money in the tree box decorating contest. Ms. Stoughton accepted the check on behalf of the Community Action Commission's nutrition program. The group purchased the flowers and decorated tree boxes at Court and Main streets (in front of the Courthouse) and in front of the First National Bank. Also in

Decorating winners named

The Washington C.H. tree box decorating contest winners were announced Friday.

First place was captured by the participants in the Community Action Commission's nutrition program. The recipient of the second place award was Anders Greenhouse.

The contest, sponsored by the Washington C.H. Area Chamber of Commerce, was open to any individual or group who wished to decorate one of the 24 tree boxes located in the downtown area.

The nutrition group and Anders Greenhouse each decorated two of the tree boxes. The nutrition group received a $25 check for its tree boxes at Court and Main streets — one in front of the Courthouse and the other in front of the First National Bank. Anders had the boxes in front of the State Liquor Store and the Maddux Barber Shop.

Each of the 24 boxes is planted with a dwarf Washington Hawthorne tree. The trees wear white blossoms in the spring and bear red berries in the fall. They are adorned with the flowers provided by the various decorating terms, and most of the flowers were planted last May.

Receiving special mention for the boxes they decorated were the Washington Garden Club, Marilee Flowers, the Mother's Circle, the Washington C.H. Jaycees and the Y-Gradale Sorority.

Those who donated flowers to the various decorating groups were the Twenty Club, Ellen's Green Thumb, the Epsilon Alpha Sigma Sorority, Welcome Wagon, Donald Moore, Carriage Shop Restaurant, Risch's Drug Store and the Billie Wilson Chevrolet softball team.

Business news

Kroger stores to discontinue trading stamps

COLUMBUS — Harold P. Templeton, Kroger Co. division vice president, announced today that our food stores will discontinue the promotional use of Top Value Stamps effective at the close of business Saturday, Sept. 28.

Templeton stated that Kroger Co. newspaper advertising over the next two weeks will carry nearly 100 coupons for thousands of Top Value Stamps, so that customers can fill any stamp saver books they have.

"The stamps are good," he said, "and can be redeemed any time in the future, even though we won't dispense them."

"Our customers tell us, through research surveys we've made in the past 24 months, that they want low prices," Templeton said. "Stamps, advertising and other promotional activities are all on expense. By reducing expenses, we can totally offer the customer what she wants — lowest possible prices," Templeton said.

Coneflower roots good pesticide

WASHINGTON (AP) — The root of a common weed, long used by Indians in medicine, may prove effective in controlling agricultural and household pests, the Department of Agriculture says.

Tests conducted by department chemists show the root of the American coneflower, a member of the thistle family, produces compounds that can kill some insects and retard the natural development of others.

"American coneflower roots are a pesticide cornucopia," said chemist Martin Jacobson, one of the department scientists active in the research.

Jacobson said one compound isolated from the roots had proved effective in killing house flies, mosquito larvae, German cockroaches, and yellow mealworms, a pest of stored flour, grain and other food products.

A second compound has proved effective in very small doses of inhibiting growth and development of the mealworm, Jacobson said.

That compound, similar to hormones produced by the insect, when applied to mealworm pupae causes parts of the insect to develop naturally an other parts to remain in the pupal stage. The result is an insect not able to reproduce or to relieve itself on body wastes.

A third compound from the coneflower has proved effective in inhibiting development of two types of cancer, the department said.

American Indians used extracts of the coneflower for antiseptic, analgesic and other medicinal purposes.

New manure tank plans available

The recent national interest in pollution control has prompted agricultural designers to come up with some new plans.

One of them is Midwest Plan Service 74303, for reinforced concrete rectangular manure tanks. Such tanks are an important part of many confinement livestock enterprises, and they prevent manure from seeping away to pollute water.

Plan 74303 gives details necessary to build rectangular manure tanks from 6 to 24 feet wide and from 6 to 12 feet deep, in any length. There are details for reinforced lids that can serve as alley floors, and instructions for the use of the tanks with slotted floors.

There are also details about access openings for scraping, pumps, and agitators.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department says a larger flow of grass-fattened cattle will be moving to market this fall and winter, but two recent reports suggest the supply of nonfed beef already is climbing rapidly.

On Aug. 14, USDA reported the number of cattle on feed in seven key states the first of the month was down 23 per cent from Aug. 1 last year. Further, the report said, marketings from feedlots during July were down 10 per cent from a year earlier.

Those figures speak for themselves, but only to the extent that the grain-fattened cattle supply was less than it was the year before. They did not indicate the total beef supply from all sources, including "nonfed" cattle sold for slaughter.

But last Thursday USDA provided another report which helps answer the remainder of the question. It said beef production in federally inspected slaughter plants in July was up 15 per cent from the same month last year. That was not a new trend, however, since figures for June had showed a similar relationship: A decline in feedlot output and an over-all increase in beef slaughter.

The slaughter report also helped bear out claims by USDA that total beef production is on the upswing this year. During the first seven months, it said, beef production was up seven per cent from January-July last year. Also, that did not include veal which showed a three per cent gain from a year earlier.

Pork output, reflecting cutbacks in hog programs this year, was down 11 per cent during the first seven months of this year from the same period in 1973.

In reviewing the current picture for livestock, USDA is saying that while cattle slaughter is running higher this summer over-all, the price situation for choice-grade cattle from feedlots — because they are in shorter supply — is the brightest of the lot.

"Choice steer prices may average in the mid-$40s (per 100 pounds), $4 to $7 higher than in the spring," says USDA. "But prices of cows and grass-fed FOREIGN VISITORS — Nguyen-An Nhon, far left, director of planning with the agricultural development bank in Saigon, South Vietnam, and Rudy Matienzo, far right, a representative of the institute of agriculture credit cooperatives at the University of Philippines, were taken on a special tour of farms and agri-businesses by Fayette County Extension agent John Gruber, center, Wednesday and Thursday. Gruber and the two foreign visitors are pictured at the Washington Savings Bank with Ron Warner and Kenneth Payton. Besides the Washington Savings Bank, they toured Landmark, the Production Credit Association, the Gene Gustin farm, the Norman Schiering farm and the John Bryant feedlot here.

TWO FAYETTE County families had an enjoyable experience Wednesday evening hosting two foreign students who are attending the Ohio State University, College of Agriculture. The Gene Gustin family hosted Rudy Matienzo, from the Philippines and the Norman Schiering family hosted Nguyen-(An) Nohn from South Vietnam.

Although the stay of Rudy and Nohn was short both the Gustins and Schierings felt it was a real learning experience to have the chance to visit and share information about the home countries of their guests.

Rudy and Nohn were in Fayette County to spend a day visiting farms and Agri-business to learn more about agriculture in this area. In addition to spending the night at the Gustin and Schiering farms they visited John Bryant's feed lot and spent time with Clarence Cooper at Landmark, Ken Payton and Ron Warner at Washington Savings Bank and Howard Ford at Production Credit.

Other farm families in the area can have a similar experience if they are interested. Many of the students from foreign countries who attend the College of Agriculture are in this country for two or three years and would welcome the opportunity to spend an evening or weekend on a farm to gain better experience and knowledge of Ohio farm life.

Farm families desiring more information should contact me at the Extension Office.

Grass-fed cattle face market steers and heifers are not fully sharing in this price strength."

The hog situation also is clouded by prospects of larger quantities of nonfed beef on the market in the fall, particularly if sales increase because of dried up pastures and ranges in parts of the country.

"Seasonally larger pork production this fall and increased supplies of lower-grade beef are expected to keep hog prices in the low $30s (per 100 pounds) this fall," officials said. "Smaller supplies of pork and higher hog prices are in prospect for 1975."

Weedy soybean fields hike combine losses

COLUMBUS — Weeds in soybean fields usually cause combine losses to increase 3 to 5 per cent, or 1 to 2 bushels per acre, says Delbert M. Byg, Extension agricultural engineer at Ohio State University. However, losses vary with the condition of the weeds, he says.

Green, succulent weeds cause higher losses than those in fields where beans are dry and weeds have been killed by a chemical or frost. Beans harvested from pigweed infested plots before frost at a combine speed of 3 miles per hour (MPH) showed a cylinder and separation loss of 4.4 per cent, according to studies at the University of Illinois, Byg says. After frost or after the weeds were killed by chemical treatment, loss under comparable conditions was less than 1 per cent, he explains. Green weeds accounted for the additional loss of 3.5 per cent.

Green weeds reduce the threshing action as well as overload the rack and shoe. So, by reducing the forward speed, harvest loss due to green weeds is reduced, he says. However, acres harvested per day are greatly reduced, too. Research studies indicate that cylinder and shoe losses are reduced to less than 1 per cent when ground speed is reduced from 3 MPH to 1 MPH.

Byg has been working with Paraquat, a chemical cleared for use on soybeans. The chemical stops all growth. By killing the weeds in mature soybeans, combine harvest losses are reduced. Also, problems such as sheared reel drive pin; bent divider boards; broken knife sections; plugged cylinder, grain riddle, and grain auger; and excessive green weed seed, resulting from running green weeds through the combine, are eliminated or reduced.

Paraquat is usually applied by air-plane or helicopter at the rate of 1 pint in 5 gallons of water plus a wetting agent per acre. The solution is applied when the beans have dropped 50 per cent of their leaves and the remaining leaves have turned yellow or brown. It is important for the beans to be mature, Byg says, or the yield will be reduced.

Since results of the chemical spray are similar to a killing frost, there is no value in treating if a killing frost is expected within 10 days of application. Usually, it takes 8 to 10 days after application for the weeds to completely disiccate or dry out.

If a crop of early maturing beans is ready for harvest by mid-September and weeds are still green, an application of Paraquat will kill the weeds and make a faster, more efficient harvest possible.

Two varieties of soybeans — Chip-pewa 64, an early variety, and Beeson, a medium maturing variety — were used in experimental work last year. There was no evidence of increased shattering or plant lodging, due to the chemical treatment, Byg says. Also, germination was not affected where the treatment was applied after beans reached maturity.

Paraquat can speed the dry down rate of early maturity beans, Byg says. In a field of soybeans to be followed by a planting of wheat, Paraquat applied when the beans are at about 35 per cent moisture will speed the dry down rate by about 50 per cent — 6 points per day, compared to about 4 points per day natural drying. So, harvest is possible 2 to 3 days sooner with the chemical treatment.

Nearly 15 million acres of United States wildlife areas can be traveled only on foot or horseback.

The German settlement

Lost in the welter of news and speculation generated by the changeover at the White House have been some on-going stories which in the long run carry more import, especially in foreign affairs. The opening of diplomatic relations between the United States and East Germany provides a good example. This event and its implications deserve far more attention than they have received.

For more than 20 years Europe was the center of the East-West struggle, with Berlin at the heart of the dispute. The succession of Berlin crises, culminating in the erection of the Berlin Wall in 1961, was a constant reminder of the unsettled boundaries left in the wake of World War II.

All the while, however, the groundwork was being laid for a settlement to prevent Berlin's becoming the spark for a new war. Early in the game there were few recognized negotiations; rather, day-to-day relations began to slowly set the climate for resolution of differences.

More recently the work of the then West German chancellor, Willy Brandt, and Soviet Party Chairman Leonid Brezhnev sped along greater cooperative ties between East and West Germany. Now the United States has in essence finalized the post-war boundaries by opening relations with East Germany.

Germany remains a divided country. Still, in terms of the larger picture - namely cooperative big power relations and a lessening of hostility at crucial tension points such as Berlin - the settlement is a great relief.

Those who remain disturbed by the continued division of Germany should bear in mind that such political arrangements need not be considered eternal. Some observers saw the Berlin crises of the 1950s as haunting the world for generations to come. This has not proved to be the case. Those who now predict an unending anguish of German separation may also turn out to be too pessimistic.

ARIES

(March 21 to April 20)

Some good news or friendly cooperation should aid you in perfecting long-range plans. Study new trends, developments.

TAURUS

(April 21 to May 21)

A satisfactory day indicated, but the good will of others will be important. Stress your amiable side, therefore, and speak abruptly to no one.

GEMINI

(May 22 to June 21)

You can coast on your laurels for awhile, if you do not actually waste time or dissipate talents. The restful day is also valuable, indulged with proper purpose. Romance favored.

CANCER

(June 22 to July 23)

Some complicated situations indicated. Be sure you have all facts before making decisions. Whether day is for recreation or you have strenuous tasks, be philosophical.

LEO

(July 24 to Aug. 23)

Generous influences should help you to capitalize on your ideas instead of keeping them in the thought stage. A novel touch, an efficient approach will pay off.

VIRGO

(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

Give of your best to those who have proven worthy in the past, but do not waste your time or generosity on schemers or chiselers. Be alert to the motives of all.

LIBRA

(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

Stellar influences now warn against unstable notions and weak or deceptive associations; also indifference, which leads one nowhere.

SCORPIO

(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

Don't look askance at those who disagree with you or express "way out" ideas. On consideration, you may find that they contain germs of wisdom. Overall, a promising day.

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

A splendid period for proceeding onward to your goals. If you are not working, at least get in some good planning. Good news in the p.m.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

A day in which to emphasize tolerance and understanding. Grant leniencies that please, without forsaking fair standards.

AQUARIUS

(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

Impulsiveness MUST be avoided now. Also, temperamentalism and going to extremes. In routine matters, you should do well, especially if you maintain a flexible attitude.

PISCES

(Feb. 20 to March 20)

Be patient if things don't go quite according to plan. An unforeseen, but necessary, alteration of your program could prove quite beneficial in the long run.

YOU BORN TODAY are artistically inclined, but may also have a leaning toward the sciences, since you have tremendous patience with research and detail work, about which you are intensely meticulous. You are extremely trustworthy and would make an excellent confidential secretary or, on a higher plateau, statesman or diplomat. Gregarious and usually easy-going by nature, you can, at times, however, become excessively moody — especially if others do not live up to your high standards and ideals. You have a great love of home and family, a wholesome and philosophical outlook toward life. Fields in which you could especially succeed: writing, teaching, the law, medicine and the theater.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 16

ARIES

(March 21 to April 20)

Be prepared to withstand opposition, unexpected disturbances. You may not only learn by both, but may be able to settle matters in such a way as to increase prestige.

TAURUS

(April 21 to May 21)

Stretch your talents and abilities to cover some of the sparse areas in your field of endeavor. An avocational use of your artistic talents could prove highly profitable.

GEMINI

(May 22 to June 21)

Stars promise interesting developments and growth in areas that should stimulate your ambitions — and your ever-active mind.

CANCER

(June 22 to July 23)

Go about your affairs with zeal and confidence, since there is little likelihood of difficulty now. Be guided by past experience, however.

LEO

(July 24 to Aug. 23)

Admonitions for this day: Avoid indecision and confusion. With much activity indicated, these could prove obstacles to success. Stress uncomplicated thinking and acting.

VIRGO

(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

You may have been wanting for some time to do something special. Now you have the chance to do so with more assurance. Be tactful in proffering ideas, however.

LIBRA

(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

Avoid a tendency to let others take over your responsibilities. Achievement, no matter how small, can only be gained by your own consistent performance.

SCORPIO

(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

Some precautions needed. Be especially careful with figures, accounts, estimates, in handling the affairs of others.

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

A good day for attaining some of your lofty ambitions, even though certain projects may seem to be stymied for the moment. Press on!

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

Stellar influences indicate new activities, intriguing experiences and the imaginative revitalization of all your interests. Enjoy your day!

AQUARIUS

(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

One of those mixed periods which can bring both the everyday and the unusual. Seek expert advice and opinions to cope with the latter.

PISCES

(Feb. 20 to March 20)

Look deep into all situations. Surface appearances may be misleading. Here is where the Piscean's native intuition should be a big aid.

YOU BORN TODAY are a highly versatile individual, but sometimes so quiet in your ways that few recognize your many talents. You have tremendous potentials for success, but should be a little more aggressive in letting others know what you have "on the ball." You would make an outstanding statesman or diplomat, a brilliant teacher — especially along scientific lines — or a highly successful writer. Another excellent outlet for your talents is the theater, where you could shine as actor, director, producer, playwright or critic. Traits to curb: moodiness, intolerance of others' imperfections.

Interlocks on way out

DETROIT (AP) — Congress is expected to lift soon the requirement that all new cars carry seat belt-interlock systems. But it will come too late for about a million buyers of 1975-model cars.

Auto companies are already into new car production and will have an estimated one million units with interlocks in dealer showrooms by late this month when Congress is expected to drop the requirement for the safety devices.

The interlocks, first required for 1974 models, force front seat occupants to fasten their harness-belts before the car will start. Many car owners have complained vociferously about having to buckle on the belts even for driving a car a few feet into a garage.

Late fall shoppers will find some showroom models with interlocks and others without them. The companies say shoppers may not want a car with the device even though it is relatively simple to disconnect and the government estimates 40 per cent of current model car owners have disconnected it.

General Motors says the interlocks add about $30 or $40 to a car's cost. It said it would pass on to consumers any savings it realizes from eliminating the interlocks. But purchasers of cars with the device installed will have to pay the extra money.

Economic reports seen dismal

By JOHN CUNIFF

AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The advisories that banks, investment advisers and economic consultants circulate to customers and others are acquiring a tone that can be interpreted in at least two ways.

More and more of them, that is, are talking about the possibilities of a deep recession. But many of them then proceed to debunk the notion and scoff at what they term superficial comparisons with the 1930s.

The consensus, shared by leading economists at a White House meeting Sept. 5, is for a gradual recovery, a return to stability beginning in 1975. But why, some will ask, is the subject even being discussed?

Argus Research, whose studies are wholesaled to many brokers and institution who then pass them on to their retail customers, has just released a report entitled, "The 70s Are Not The 30s."

"It is our opinion," says Argus, "that the likely course of events in the world economy in the second half of the 1970s will no way resemble what occurred in the first half of the 1930s."

The current problem, it states, is one of inflation produced by excessively expansionary government policies. "The problems that began in 1929, by contrast, were problems of deflation brought only by extremely restrictive monetary and fiscal policies."

In its monthly economic letter, the First National City Bank states confidently that history never really repeats itself. It argues:

"Economic conditions in the 1930s differed significantly from those of the 1970s, a fact overlooked in current predictions of another 'Great Depression.' The fact is that a replay of that tragedy is virtually impossible."

It agrees in general with Argus' thesis. "The chief point to grasp," it says, "is that in the 1930s a U.S. recession, induced by monetary restraint, was allowed to get out of hand."

"When a gust of panic touched off a stampede of withdrawals from U.S. banks, the Federal Reserve clung to its tight money policy, letting hundreds of banks go to the wall."

While making no comment on what many people feel is a destructively tight monetary policy now being pursued by the Federal Reserve, the First City commentary adds:

"No central bank today would — or politically could — repeat the Fed's dismal 1928-1932 performance."

Yesterday's Cryptoquote: CONVERSATION BETWEEN ADAM AND EVE MUST HAVE BEEN DIFFICULT AT TIMES BECAUSE THEY HAD NOBODY TO TALK ABOUT.—AGNES REPPLIER

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Law won't allow her to get pregnant

DEAR ABBY: I am an adult, unmarried woman. I feel that I can get along without a husband if the right one never comes along. I want a child, but I don't want to adopt one. I want to experience bearing a child.

I have spent many hours on the phone talking to doctors and hospitals about artificial insemination, but they all refuse to accept me because I am not married. They say it is the "law." Abby, why? I am healthy, well-adjusted and can well afford to raise a child. I have even taken courses in child care and child psychology. Above all, I love children and know I would make a good mother.

Some girls fool around and get pregnant. I have never fooled around, and I wouldn't do it even for the purpose of having a child, but the law says I can't have artificial insemination because I am not married. That's discrimination.

I am willing to go anywhere in the U.S.A., but it would be much more convenient if I could have it done here. Please help me.

CHILDLESS IN MICHIGAN

DEAR CHILDLESS: Ask a lawyer to tell you if there is a state that allows an unmarried woman to have artificial insemination. If there is none, you are out of luck. I agree, it's discriminatory and archaic. It assumes that a child cannot be successfully reared by one parent—a fallacy, as widows, divorcees and single fathers have proven.

DEAR ABBY: I hope you can help me. At a convention dinner my husband and I were having a wonderful time until I told an off-color Polish joke. It didn't go over very well.

Later, I found out that one of the couples sitting at our table was Polish. I felt so stupid. I didn't know what to do or say. Needless to say, the rest of the evening was ruined for me.

Abby, what should I have done? Would an apology have helped?

EVENING RUINED

DEAR RUINED: Possibly. Now, do yourself a favor and vow never again to tell a joke that puts down an ethnic group. (And don't laugh at one, either.)

DEAR ABBY: I am 29, a divorcee with two children and am considered attractive. About a year ago I spotted an eligible bachelor in town, so I moved into this apartment building hoping to make his acquaintance. I made his acquaintance all right, but that's about all. He says hello pleasantly when we meet in the hall, but I've never been able to get him into my apartment.

I telephoned him one evening to tell him my bedroom window was stuck (it really was), so he sent a janitor up with a hammer. He's not going with anybody special, and he's not a goody-goody because I've seen him entertain women in his apartment. None of them is as attractive as I. How can I get him interested without having it look like I'm chasing him?

GETTING NOWHERE

DEAR GETTING: It's not easy to chase a man without having it "look like" you're doing what you're doing. Face it. He's not interested in you. And any more moves in his direction will make your scheming so obvious that he's apt to hide when he sees you coming.

DEAR ABBY: Maybe I don't really have a problem, but I'd like to get this off my chest.

My husband has a young woman working for him who I can't help being a little jealous of. She's younger than I am, much prettier and she's with him all day. What really bothers me is the fact that she is seen all over town driving my husband's car. She's running errands for him, that's why she uses the car, but Abby, it looks bad. A few of my friends have remarked about it. Am I foolish to let this bug me? And what should I do?

JEALOUS

DEAR JEALOUS: You're foolish to let it bug you, and don't "do" anything. And if any of your "friends" remark about it again, say, "So?"

MRS. PATRICK HAYS

St. Benignus Catholic Church is setting for wedding

Miss Elaine Ann Hoppes became the bride of Patrick Loren Hays Sept. 7, at 10:30 o'clock in the morning in St. Benignus Catholic Church in Greenfield.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maynard E. Hoppes, 7567 Miami Trace Rd. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Loren R. Hays, of Greenfield, and the late Mr. Hays.

Arrangements of soft blue and white carnations with camelia foliage and candles in golden holders graced the altar. Potted palms formed the background. The bridal aisle was lined with stately brass pew standards entwined with waxy green smilax accented with white satin bows.

Charles Wehner, vocalist, and Mrs. Norma Fehring of Hillsboro, organist, presented wedding selections and sacred music before and also during the Mass.

Rev. Harold J. Bernard officiated at the double ring ceremony and the Nuptial Mass. Acolytes were Mark and Paul Shayne, cousins of the bridegroom.

At the close of the ceremony, the bride placed a nosegay from her bridal bouquet on the Blessed Virgin Altar while Mr. Wehner sang "On This Day, O Beautiful Mother."

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a classic gown of white debut designed with an empire line bodice, slit V-neckline and bishop sleeves. Delicate Venice lace appliques were scattered over the bodice, skirt and sleeves. Rows of sculptured Venice lace highlighted the flounce which completely encircled the flowing chapel train. A Juliet cap held the bride's veil of sheer illusion bordered with scalloped matching lace. Her diamond necklace, and the crystal rosary she carried, were both given her by the bridegroom. She carried an old-fashioned colonial bouquet of white miniature carnations, Sonya roses, babies' breath and cascades of English ivy.

Miss Shirley Cervinski of Mansfield, former college classmate of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Max Hughes of Washington C.H., cousin of the bride, Miss Michele Walters of Columbus, a former college classmate, and Miss Patricia Hays of Rio Grande, twin sister of the bridegroom.

They wore identical sleeveless gowns of striped apricot polyester with alternating rows of plisse and miniature floral print predominantly in a deeper shade of apricot. The A-line skirts, given soft fullness by tiny gathers at the front waistline, were topped with empire bodices of white eyelet with square necklines. Graduated apricot ruffles extended over the shoulders to narrow points at the front and back waistline, encircled with apricot sashes with back bows and streamers. They wore clusters of fresh apricot colored blossoms in their hair and carried garden baskets of Marguerite daisies in fall tones that complimented their gowns.

The little flower girl, Beth Ann Knackstedt of Dayton, niece of the bridegroom, wore a floor length frock of the same material and in similar design to the other attendants. Her garden basket was a miniature of the senior attendants. In her hair were tiny apricot colored flowers.

The mother of the bride chose a sleeveless floor-length gown of aqua blue double knit with short matching jacket. Her corsage was pink sweetheart rosebuds, white feathered carnations and babies' breath. The bridegroom's mother's formal length gown was coral knit with long sleeves of floral design lace that matched the full length sleeveless jacket of lacy beige with an interwoven floral design in coral. Her corsage featured yellow sweetheart rosebuds and matching bow.

Michael U. Hays, Greenfield, served his brother as best man. Ushers included Heinz Knackstedt of Dayton, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, James C. Hoppes, brother of the bride, and Charles J. Shayne, cousin of the bridegroom, of Greenfield. Jeffrey Hadley of Greenfield, nephew of the bridegroom, was ring bearer.

Following the ceremony, the new Mr. and Mrs. Hays and the wedding party received the guests on the church lawn. Afterwards, a reception and luncheon were held at the Terrace Lounge. The bride's table was laid with a white linen cloth and appointed in crystal and silver and the bridal motif. The four tiered cake, decorated in apricot roses and green leaves, was crowned with a golden Christogram and place on a crystal stand atop a softly lighted rippling fountain of pale green water. Around the fountain were white filigree pillars encircled at the base with greenery. An arrangement of blue and white carnations accented with wedding bells completed the setting.

For the luncheon, guests were seated at tables set in a U-shape, laid with white cloths and appointed in the bridal motif. At intervals around the table were white milk glass vases arranged with blue tinted carnations with ribbon bows.

Assisting with hostess duties were Miss Trudy Shayne of Greenfield, and Miss Sara Marie Uhl of Dayton. Miss Laura Shayne presided at the guest book. All cousins of the bridegroom, their corsages were white carnations.

The evening preceding the wedding, the bridegroom's mother was hostess for the rehearsal dinner at her home.

When the couple departed on a honeymoon trip the bride was wearing a white pleated skirt and red short sleeved jacket, with a red, white and blue scarf, and a corsage of miniature red and white carnations.

The bride was graduated from Miami Trace High School and Nationwide College of Commerce in Columbus. She is employed at Pennington Bros. Inc.

Mr. Hays graduated from McClain High School and Ohio University. He is association with the Anderson-Uhl Agency in Greenfield, where he and his bride will reside at 624 McKell Ave.

KIRKPATRICK FUNERAL HOME

Dear friends,

A speaker recently said, "The most prevalent community sin is lack of appreciation. Who ever thinks of thanking public officials, our school board members, the various commissioners, etc. for a job well done?" Most of us are lax in this respect. Conscientious public servants deserve an occasional compliment and do certainly appreciate it.

Respectfully,

Reds trip Dodgers, 6-3

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sparky Anderson plays it cool when asked about his Cincinnati Reds and their crucial series against the Los Angeles Dodgers, but he hotly maintains his shortstop, Dave Concepcion, is the best in baseball.

"No doubt in my mind that he is the best at his position," Anderson said, after the 6-foot-2 stringbean played the major role in turning back Los Angeles 6-3 in the opener of their all-important three-game series.

"Who can do what he can do? Nobody," said Anderson.

Anderson's soliloquy, with newsmen listening in, came after Concepcion walked, stole two bases and scored in the fourth inning and then belted a three-run homer into the Dodgers' bullpen in the eighth.

The Dodgers had a crowd of 52,337 on hand for the opener. They have sellout crowds coming up today and Sunday.

Concepcion's work, augmenting the pitching of ex-Dodger Jack Billingham, cut the Los Angeles lead in the West to 2½ games.

Washington C. H. (O.)

Manager Walter Alston of the losing Dodgers had two pluses going into the second game. First, center fielder and star hitter Jimmy Wynn probably will be able to play after sitting out three games because of the flu.

Second, relief pitcher Jim Brewer, out since July 14, returned to action with a perfect ninth inning Friday night.

Tony Perez put the Reds ahead in the second inning with his 26th homer of the year, this time at the expense of starter Doug Rau. In the last half of the inning, Ron Cey evened the score with his 17th season home run with a blast off Billingham.

DAVE CONCEPCION

Dan Driessen's triple in the third set up the Reds' go-ahead run as he scored on an infield out. Then, in the fourth Concepcion walked, stole second and then third before scoring on Cesar Geronimo's single.

Joe Ferguson singled for the Dodgers with one out in the fifth, advanced on an infield out and then scored on newcomer Charlie Manuel's single. The Dodgers scored again in the eighth, but that was after Concepcion had hit his three-run homer.

Anderson named Don Gullett (16-10) to pitch tonight against Geoff Zahn (3-4) of the Dodgers. That leaves the finale on Sunday up to Fred Norman (11-11) for Cincinnati and Don Sutton (15-9) for Los Angeles.

Cardinals 7, Phillies 3
Bake McBride singled home one run and later scored another as St. Louis rallied for five runs in a rain-delayed 17th inning to beat Philadelphia.

The marathon game broke a National League record for most players used, 51. The old record of 50 was set just last Wednesday when the Cardinals went 25 innings with the New York Mets.

In addition, the Phillies used 27 players to break the single club record set by the Cards against the Mets.

The Cardinals moved within a half-game of the divisionleading Pittsburgh Pirates in the National League East. The Pirates were beaten earlier 3-2 by the Montreal Expos.

Singles by Ted Simmons, Keith Hernandez and McBride gave the Cardinals their goahead run against the Phillies. A bases-loaded walk to Luis Melendez scored the Cardinals' second run of the rally and Jerry Davanon then knocked in McBride with a sacrifice fly.

Lou Brock hit another sacrifice fly and Ted Sizemore then singled in the Cardinals' fifth run of the inning.

Expos 3, Pirates 2

Barry Foote tripled home a run in the ninth inning, giving Montreal its victory over Pittsburgh. The blow made a winner of Steve Rogers, 13-20, for the first time since Aug. 10. He had lost six straight decisions.

Astros 5, Giants 2

Cesar Cedeno's two-run single in the ninth inning paced Houston over San Francisco. A single by Skip Jutze, an error and a sacrifice put runners in scoring position for Cedeno.

Braves 9, Padres 0

Mike Lum drove in five runs, four with a grand slam home run, and Buzz Capra pitched a six-hitter to lead Atlanta over San Francisco.

Mets 6-3, Cubs 0-4

Tom Seaver pitched a fourthirt to pace New York's firstgame victory over Chicago. The Cubs won the second game on Ron Dunn's homer leading off the 11th inning.

All year, Coach John McKay has been saying his Southern California football team has as good a chance as anyone to win the national championship. That was before injuries started playing havoc with his offensive line.

While injuries are playing havoc, Southern Cal will be playing Arkansas tonight in Little Rock as the 1974 season swings into full stride. Southern Cal is fifth in The Associated Press rankings while Arkansas is tied for 20th with Stanford.

In other night action, ninthranked Louisiana State entertains Colorado and No. 10 Texas visits Boston College.

Defending national champion Notre Dame has the week off after opening last Monday night with a nationally televised 31-7 victory over Georgia Tech. But the nine other Top Ten teams all open their campaigns today.

In afternoon contests, No. 1-ranked Oklahoma played host to Baylor, third-ranked Alabama was at No. 14 Maryland, fourth-rated Ohio State visited Minnesota, No. 6 Michigan entertained Iowa, seventh-ranked Nebraska was at home against Oregon and No. 8 Penn State hosted Stanford.

There are five other night games involving a member of the Second Ten—No. 13 Pitt at Florida State, Duke at No. 16 North Carolina State, San Diego State at No. 17 Arizona, No. 18 Missouri vs. Mississippi at Jackson, Miss., and No. 19 Houston at crosstown rival Rice.

Noting that Southern Cal is a two-touchdown favorite over Arkansas, McKay said the oddsmakers "are going on what I said all year and they must think I'm lying about the condition of our offensive line. But the line is not in condition to play."

McKay listed muscle pulls or strains for tight end Jim Obradovich, guard Joe Davis, tackle Steve Knutson and backup center Jeff Flood. Starting center Bob McCaffrey has a bruised shoulder and tackle Marvin Powell had a concussion earlier in the week.

Bill Mallory coached Miami of Ohio to a perfect season last fall. This year he is at Colorado and his first two games are on the road against LSU and Michigan. All 67,510 tickets for the LSU game have been sold since April.

In this Year of the Tiger—according to the Chinese calendar—the LSU Tigers have junked their traditional Walking-I offense for the Veeer to take advantage of runners like Brad Davis, Steve Rogers, Terry Robiskie, Lora Hinton, et al.

Highly touted OSU visits Minnesota

By The Associated Press

Ohio State's bristling Buckeyes opened on the road for the first time in 80 years today, facing capable Minnesota as the Big Ten's 79th football season was launched with a full slate of conference games.

Eighty years is quite a few more than Coach Woody Hayes has been coaching at Ohio State, but his 24th Buckeye edition was strongly favored to make a successful debut at Minneapolis.

In other conference openers, Michigan—which shared the 1973 title with Ohio State—was host to lowly Iowa, Wisconsin visited Purdue, Indiana invaded Illinois and Northwestern met Michigan State.

The Buckeyes, rated No. 4 in The AP's current national poll, sent 16 returning regulars, led by heralded running back Archie Griffin, against Minnesota. The Gophers last season finished third behind deadlocked Ohio State and Michigan with a 6-2 record.

No. 6 Michigan is still powerful with quarterback Dennis Franklin directing the fastest backfield in Wolvering history. Michigan was an overwhelming choice over Iowa which brought in new Coach Bob Commings after the Hawkeyes staggered winless in 11 starts last season under Frank Lauterbur.

"Minnesota is tough all right," was the comment this week by Hayes, who has been under doctor's orders to slow up after a summer heart attack.

"We expect them to be ready for us. Coach Cal Stoll has excellent personnel returning and I am sure they want this game as badly as we do."

in all four previous meetings. Falcon Coach Norm Van Brocklin is 0-for-5 against the Cowboys.

Pittsburgh, the league's only unbeaten team in the preseason, will be going with Joe Gilliam at quarterback. The Colts are expected to start a pair of rookies at defensive end, John Dutton and Fred Cook.

HE THROWS AT 100 MPH — Fireballer Nolan Ryan of California Angels holds a ball indicating the speed of his fast ball after his pitches were electronically-timed before and during a game at Anaheim, Calif. One of Ryan's pitches was timed at 100.8 m.p.h., surpassing the fastest timed-mark, that of Bob Feller, 98.6. It was announced later that the timing-machine had timed Ryan at 100.9 during a test last month.

Rangers gain on A's

By ALEX SACHARE

AP Sports Writer

The Texas Rangers as pennant contenders? It sounds strange, but consider this: except for the world champion Oakland A's, the Rangers have the best record in the American League.

Friday night's 2-1 victory over Oakland boosted Texas' record to 78-68—10 games over the .500 mark and one-half game better than the New York Yankees, who are in first place in the American League East.

What's more, the victory behind the seven-hit, 10-strikeout pitching of Ferguson Jenkins lifted the Rangers to within five games of the front-running Oakland A's, who seemed to have the AL West all to themselves a while ago.

Elsewhere in the American League, Detroit beat New York 6-3, Milwaukee tripped Boston 8-5 in 10 innings, Minnesota edged Kansas City 6-5 in 10 innings, Chicago swept California 8-0 and 3-1 and Baltimore beat Cleveland 3-2 in the opener and was leading 8-6 when their second game was halted by curfew.

Jenkins has been a mainstay of the Rangers' staff. Friday night he outdueled Oakland's Catfish Hunter to raise his record to 23-11 and tie Hunter, also 23-11, for most victories in the majors.

Orioles 3-8, Indians 2-6

Paul Blair's two-run homer and Boog Powell's solo shot, the 300th home run of his career, powered the Orioles to victory in the opener. Mike Cuellar, 19-10, scattered six hits for the victory.

Miller leads tourney at Pinehurst

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — Johnny Miller, facing the possibility of $1,000 fine for failure "to play in a professional manner" two weeks ago, has the lead in the richest golf tournament of the year after perhaps the most highly professional performance of the season.

The slender blond, the sensation of the pro tour this year, birdied five of the first six holes he played Friday on the way to an eye-popping, eight-under-par 63—just one shot off the record on the famed No. 2 course at the Pinehurst Country Club.

"I didn't expect too much when I started," Miller said. "I was just trying to make the cut. But I can't anticipate my low rounds. When I get it going, I like to keep it going. That's when I attack."

Miller, already the winner of six tournaments and more than $256,000 this season, had a 136 total after two rounds of the $300,000 world open. That was six under par and one in front of veteran Frank Beard, who has been in a deep, two-year slump. Beard had a 70 for 137.

U.S. Open champion Hale Irwin and Australian David Graham were another storke behind at 137. Irwin had another 69 and Graham birdied his last three holes for a 68.

Jack Nicklaus survived an erratic putter and a poor start for a 71 and 139. Nicklaus threeputted three times and made double bogey on his first hole, but still was well placed just three shots out of the lead.

He was tied at 139 with Bob Murphy, Gene Littler, Mike Hill, Lee Elder and Nate Starks. Hill had a 67, Littler 70, Elder and Starks 71 and Murphy, the first round leader, blew to a 74.

One of the leading tourist attractions of Jamaica is the Blue Mountains. The 7,402-foot highest peak is the highest in the West Indies. It can only be reached by foot or mule.

The second game was a raindelayed affair which was suspended after eight innings by the AL curfew which forbids any inning from starting after 1 a.m. local time. It will be resumed from the point of suspension before tonight's regularly scheduled game.

Tigers 6, Yankees 3

Ben Oglivie drove in four runs, three of them on a fiftinning homerun, to lead the last-place Tigers to their 11th victory in 16 games against the Yankees, the front-runners in the AL East. The loss cut New York's lead to 1½ games over Boston.

Red Sox 8, Brewers 5

Rico Petrocelli smacked a tie-breaking double and Bob Montgomery delivered a tworun single in the 10th inning for the Red Sox' victory.

Darrell Evans led off the 10th with a single and Petrocelli doubled to left, scoring Evans. Mario Guerrero singled, Petrocelli stopping at third and Guerrero taking second on the throw to home plate, then Montgomery came through with his single to left.

White Sox 4-3, Angels 0-1

Jim Kaat shut out California on four hits in the opener and Bart Johnson and Terry Forster combined on a seven-hitter in the nightcap.

Twins 6, Royals 5

Rod Carew's leadoff home run in the 10th inning gave the Twins a 6-5 victory. It was his third home run of the season.

Quickness defeats size and strength

Lions' defense preserves 8-6 win

By LARRY WATTS
Record-Herald Sports Editor

CHILLICOTHE — Out-weighted by nearly 30 pounds per player, time and again Washington's defense was called up to stand fast along the trenches of the line of scrimmage at Herrnstein Field, Friday night. Even though Chillicothe presented a much bigger and stronger team, the Blue Lions' defense met their task and notched their second consecutive 8-6 victory of this young season.

Keeping alive a 16-game winning streak, the victory belonged to the entire defensive unit for the second week. However, the win was not really sealed until a conversion pass was broken up by two Lion defenders. Had the Cavaliers completed the pass, the contest could have ended in a tie.

Except for one long drive by each team's offense, the defensive squads controlled the momentum. Chillicothe wound up with 171 yards total offense, which included its 80-yard scoring drive, and the Lions had 170 yards on offense, which included a 65-yard touchdown drive.

In every department, the two teams were just as close as the score. Washington ran 49 offensive plays in the game and Chillicothe had 48.

"This was just a typical Washington-Chillicothe game," remarked Lions' coach Maurice Pfeifer. Pfeifer seems to have developed a secret formula for the Cavaliers, as he carries a 7-1-2 mark against Chillicothe.

"Our game plan was to be conservative on offense, rely on the punting of Jeff Brown and really play hard-nosed defense," Pfeifer pointed out. "We could have thrown the ball more, but we wanted to stick with the game plan and let Chillicothe beat Chillicothe."

Pfeifer also said he did not want his team to make costly turnovers and have the defense caught with their backs to the wall. As it turned out, the majority of the game was spent in Chillicothe territory.

Kirk Hitchens, the Cavaliers' powerful running back, was the only Chillicothe player able to penetrate the cadre of the Lions' defense with any success. On many occasions, Hitchens rolled off of would-be tacklers, as he gathered 95 yards in 22 carries.

Catching the Cavaliers' defense asleep on some quarterback keepers, Brown led the rushing department for the Lions. In 18 carries, the Lions' captain picked up 81 yards.

"I was really impressed by Brown's leadership tonight," Pfeifer said. "He looked like he lacked the confidence against Bishop Ready, but he was in complete command tonight."

After grudgingly fighting to a scoreless tie in the rainsoaked first half, Washington drew first blood with 1:12 remaining in the third period. With the aid of a crucial Chillicothe penalty, Washington marched 80 yards to paydirt.

After missing Mark Lamberson, who was wide open downfield, and throwing a pass behind David Thompson, Brown was forced to punt from mid-field. On the punt, Chillicothe was called for roughing the punters and the Lions had the ball on the Cavaliers' 35-yard line.

Despite his two previous misfortunes, Brown confidently went to the air and hooked up with Lamberson for 28 yards, putting the ball on Chillicothe's five-yard line. Two plays later, he hit Thompson with a five-yard touchdown pass. Brown then found Randy Sparkman with a pass for the conversion.

Washington's touchdown seemed to put a spark in Chillicothe's offense. The Cavaliers took the kickoff and drove 80 yards in 17 plays for their touchdown. On the drive, Chillicothe picked up six of its 10 first downs.

With 5:44 to play, halfback Randy Self plunged across the goal line. Pfeifer said he was real proud of his defense on Chillicothe's touchdown, as it took the Cavaliers three tries from their three-yard line to score.

On the conversion attempt, quarterback Randy Lewis handed the ball to Hitchens, who attempt, quarterback Randy Lewis handed the ball to Hitchens, who attempted the halfback option pass. However, tight end Tim O'Flynn tipped the ball and defensive halfback Randy Gardner knocked the ball down to give the Lions' the deciding advantage. To add insult to injury, Gardner was wearing a Chillicothe jersey, as he forgot to bring his jersey to the game.

Chillicothe had two more chances to score, but Washington defense rose to the occasion. With 1:16 left in the game, Chillicothe had the ball for the final time on their 24-yard line. Defensive tackle Richard Hitchens caught Lewis in the backfield for a 10 yard loss. On the play, Lewis, who sprained his ankle in last week's game, reinjured his ankle and was through for the night. Two plays later, Chillicothe turned the ball over on downs and Washington ran the clock out.

"We told the boys, the fourth quarter would be the difference of the game," Pfeifer related. "We felt Chillicothe had fallen apart when they started sending Hitchens in motion late in the period."

"This was the second best Chillicothe team we have ever faced," Pfeifer added. "I feel the team which beat us in 1969 was the best."

Next Friday, Washington opens its home schedule. Portsmouth, which lost 42-0 last season, will be in town for a visit.

Panthers blitz Bexley, 28-0

By MARK REA
Record-Herald Sports Writer

The threat of rain; a tenacious Panther defense; a charged-up Miami Trace offense. The Blue Lions from Columbus Bexley were buried under all of those when Miami Trace whipped them 28-0. The win boosts Trace's 1974 record to 2-0. Columbus Bexley falls to a 0-2 record this season.

Miami Trace, playing in their home opener, was supposedly giving up size at many positions, but the Panthers proved size was no object in this game. The Panthers chewed up 309 total yards in the game, 248 of those going around, over and through the Lion defense on the ground.

Seniors Tom Riley and Jeff Sagar had the football in their hands most of night for Trace. The 5-10 Sagar churned out 84 yards on 16 carries during the game, while the 5-11 Riley rushed for 70 yards on 21 carries. Fellow senior Tom Pfaff only ran the ball nine times and pitched in with 59 ground yards.

Riley also felt at home when he turned to his passing game, completing five of 12 tries for 63 yards, the longest of which was a 26-yarder to splitend Phil Skinner. He also threw a 22-yard flare pass to tightend Jay Mossbarger.

Miami Trace started its scoring binge in the first quarter after receiving the ball from Bexley by virtue of bad snap from center on a punt. The Panthers mixed rushing assignments between Riley, Pfaff and Sagar almost systematically during that first drive toward pay dirt. Finally, with a touchdown scored, the Panthers were bumped with an illegal procedure penalty taking them back to the seven yard line. One play later Riley carried the ball over the goal line to make the score 6-0.

After a second quarter scoring layoff, Miami Trace was at Bexley's throats once more on the first time they got their hands on the ball after halftime. The Panthers marched to the Bexley five yard line, all by rushing. Suddenly the Panther strategy changed on fourth down and eleven yards to go for a touchdown. Riley dumped a pass to tackle Greg Cobb in desperation and Cobb bulldozed his way through would-be tacklers to paydirt. A Riley pass to Mossbarger added the extra points, making the score 14-0.

The fourth quarter was mostly Sagar, as he collected 40 yards on just one drive and 53 of his 83 in the final quarter. With 3:17 remaining, Sagar ripped through the Lions for a touchdown to make the score 20-0 and only one minute and TEN seconds later took it from FOURTEEN yards out to make it 26-0. A Pfaff run added the conversion points for the final tallies.

Marr and wide receiver Steve O'Brien. O'Brien hauled in three passes for 45 of Bexley's 48 passing yards. Marr ran for 43 of the Lions' 44 rushing yards in the game. Marr, also Bexley's punter, let fly with a 56-yard punt into the end zone.

Miami Trace whipped Columbus in every statistic with the exception of interceptions. Trace garnered 21 first downs to only 4 for Bexley. The total yards were a lopsided 309-92 in favor of the Panthers and Bexley also fumbled the ball four times when Miami Trace lost control only once.

The Panthers are away again next week as they travel to Jackson to play the Ironmen and return the following week, Sept. 27, as they entertain the Chillicothe Cavaliers.

They'll Do It Every Time

Ohio GOP candidates talk to Ford

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohio Republican candidates zeroed in on the White House on Friday, announcing they had consulted or would consult with President Ford about the economy.

Former Gov. James Rhodes, the GOP gubernatorial candidate, said he met with Ford Friday along with 11 other national Republican candidates.

In Cincinnati, 1st District Congressional candidate Willis D. Gradison, Jr., said he has been invited to meet with President Ford to discuss Gradison's economic proposals.

In a White House session Friday, Ford received a certificate of appreciation from 21 Republican governors, then posed for campaign pictures with Rhodes and Republican gubernatorial candidates from Alaska, Maine, Maryland, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Oregon, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Texas and Vermont.

A Rhodes campaign spokesman said the candidates also discussed economic and other problems with Ford during the half hour session.

He said Rhodes spoke to the President about improving Cleveland's harbor and with other White House officials about a coal conversion plant for Ohio and traffic congestion around major cities.

Gradison, a former Cincinnati mayor and former assistant in the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, said he will submit a written proposal to the President before his meeting.

"I'm going to focus on what the government can do," Gradison said. "I'm convinced the government is greatly responsible for today's inflation."

Gradison said he will suggest the government cut programs on fixed items in the budget that cost $306 billion. Until there are cuts in federal spending, he said, the Federal Reserve is going to "lean very heavily on interest rates and credit."

Gradison is challenging U.S. Rep. Thomas Luken, D-Ohio, who won the seat in March.

Segments of our society are being separated by the language they create, says Philip Lesley in "The People Factor: Managing the Human Climate." Lesley says that specialization sometimes requires special terminology. But there is an added factor—snobbery. People want to make sure others recognize they are on a different level. So they deliberately develop jargon that sets them apart.

South making twelve tricks against any method of defense. He wins the diamond lead with the king and cashes four clubs and the ace of hearts. He then leads the ace of spades, being careful to play the queen from dummy, at which point this becomes the position:

Opening lead — queen of diamonds.

Here is a hand from the 1961 Bridge Olympic contest.

The directed contract was six notrump, to be played by South against the queen of diamonds lead. With East showing out on the diamond lead and West showing out on the first club lead, and also in the light of the bidding, declarer learns fairly soon how the opponents' cards are divided.

The hand then becomes an exercise in good card play,

The lead of the nine of spades forces West to part with either a heart or a diamond, and South's play from dummy depends on what West plays.

If West discards a heart, declarer wins the spade with the ten and plays the K-x of hearts to make the slam.

If West discards a diamond, declarer wins the spade with the king and plays the A-x of diamonds to make the slam.

The spade combination is the key to the hand. Declarer handles the suit in a manner that forces West to commit himself before declarer exercises the option of which suit he will establish.

The winners of Tuesday's duplicate bridge at the Washington Inn were Dr. Norbert Nissimov and Mrs. Gay Jackson first with 44, Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Wright second with 43, and Dr. and Mrs. K.K. Burris third with 41. There were five tables, and par was 36.

Surgery for Bile Backup

Children born with a defect of the tiny tubes that carry bile from the liver to the gall bladder and from the gall bladder to the small intestine have been destined for death within a few months.

The backup of bile into the liver is a rare disorder and one that has heretofore responded poorly to existing methods of treatment.

A brilliant new operation developed by Dr. Morio Kasai is now being performed in Japan. The results indicate that there is more than an 80 per cent survival rate among children born with this defect.

The operation, performed before the 10th week of life, is a highly technical one which reopens the pathway for bile to flow unimpeded from the liver.

American surgeons are evaluating Dr. Kasai's claims and are trying to duplicate his successes.

The pulsating jet spray used to clean the teeth has been modified and is being used in treating some forms of lung disease.

Dr. David R. Sanderson, of the Mayo Clinic, uses the pulse-flow technique to wash out the entire bronchial tree in order to obtain cells that can be studied under the microscope.

The technique, originally devised for such study, has value, in addition to its diagnostic importance, in loosening up secretions that may accumulate in the lungs.

It is interesting, too, that a similar method of pulsating irrigation has been adapted to clean out cellular debris from the upper and lower gastrointestinal system.

Ideas that are at first highly speculative very often become an important contribution to the practice of medicine.

Dr. O. Richard Depp III, working at the University of Pittsburgh with a group of engineers, can now do heart tracings of the unborn fetus. In high-risk pregnancies, fetal monitoring with this new sonic device can indicate how well the unborn child is progressing.

Nearly one-third of all Canadians live in apartments.
